Dear Friends and Colleagues,

2008 So FAR:

2008 is shaping up to be even better than 2007. We have a number of very interesting projects and clients. What makes 2008 a bit different is a transition to longer projects over time, rather than shorter 'sprints'.

For example, we have two projects with the SEEP Network facilitating processes for international microfinance which will take place over two years, see below. We are also doing more environmental work. Last, we are measuring the social return on investment in public health.

On the personal front, Drew Tulchin is spending more time in Santa Fe, New Mexico (no hardship there). And, we just finalized a partnership with the consulting firm Social Venture Technology Group (SVT Group), which is a great addition that allows us to do even more community impact work.

WELCOME NEW 2008 CLIENTS:

Nemours Health and Prevention Services (NHPS) – partnering with SVT Group

Environmental Defense Fund (EDF) two projects in Mexico

The SEEP Network: USAID Financial Services IGP Learning Network Facilitator and MFI Financial Reporting Standards Initiative
